GARDEN CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MONTHLY MEETING; NEW HEAD

Mrs. Leo W. Seal, President, Presides—Discuss Possibility of Transforming Land at Beach Intersection of Second Street Into Park For Visitors and Others—Committees Appointed.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club met for the month of June at the home of Miss Margaret Green with Miss Elsie Spool as joint hostess.

Mrs. Leo W. Seal, the new president, was in the chair and the meeting was well attended and brought forth several interesting and important discussions.

To Create Recreation Park.

A lengthy discussion was held on the proposal of converting into a playground or picnic ground the beautiful lot at the intersection of North Beach and Second streets, the haven of squatters for so long.

The Garden Club discussed the possibilities of this location and the ways and means whereby with the cleaning and weeding of the lot and placing of benches and swings on it, and a small building in which children could dress, the beach at this point could serve as a bathing beach.

This too would do away with the general use of the private beach frontage owned by property owners in this section and would afford besides a picnic grounds for transients and picnicers, a play ground for the children of Bay St. Louis.

Appeal For U. S. Funds

Mrs. James A. Evans in a few well chosen words asked the membership of the Club to heed the appeal of the United Service Organization in its drive for funds on Friday and give as generously as the members could to the most worthy project of the government and assist in the national defense program.

The Club voted its deep thanks to Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Orte for the donation of twenty-six folding chairs.

A number of beautiful flowers arrangements were displayed with bowls of pretty daisies, tall vases of delicate, waxy gadioli, and several bouquets of beautiful lilies, or pond lilies. Also among the displays was a pretty fountain arrangement of yucca blossoms. The prize winners were Mrs. J. Roland Weston winning the member's blue ribbon for a beautiful arrangement of daisy red mimbretia in a flat bowl with miniature Chinese figures on each side and the visitor's prize was awarded to Mrs. A. F. Fournier for an arrangement of giant pink-tinted lilies in a pretty tall transparent vase.

Mrs. Seal appointed the following committees for the new year:

Program: Mrs. F. J. Trasteur, chairman; Mesdames Rhea Bonck, F. J. Kieffer and J. R. Schmitt; Scrap Book, Mrs. Max Koller; Beautification for Bay St. Louis, Mrs. Louis Miamus, chairman; Mesdames Dennis F. Burge, G. Y. Blaize, and Roland Weston; Waveland Beautification, Mrs. E. C. Carrere, chairman; E. P. Orte, E. N. Spence and J. T. Piowell.

The following committee was appointed in charge of Flower Arrangement Contest for the second quarter of the year: Mesdames F. O. McCoy and H. C. Glover.

An interesting social hour was enjoyed by the members after the close of the business meeting with the hostesses serving a delicious salad course.

The July meeting will be held at "Halelujah," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Thompson, in Waveland with Mesdames George R. Rea and L. T. Boyd as co-hostesses.

Orte Theater Inaugurates New Matinee Policy.

In response to the numerous requests from the patronage of the Orte Theater for a mid-week matinee, Ed Orte has arranged to comply with the above.

It seems a large number of people are unable to attend nightly showings and especially those preferring sending their children to afternoon shows. It will offer diversion and pleasure for the people of our county and we hope that the attendance will be sufficient so that the Orte Theater will continue this policy.

The finest type of pictures will be shown on Tuesday. The opening production will be one of Gene Stratton Porter's famous novels, "Her First Romance." This picture starring Edith Fellows and Walter Evans. Remember the starting time 3:30 P. M. and shows continuously.

MEETING OF INTEREST TO MERCHANTS OF BAY ST. LOUIS ANNOUNCED

Henry W. Osoinach to Preside at Meeting Thursday Night of This Week Interest of Cotton Stamps.

All retailers and their clerks and wholesalers of American grown and manufactured cotton merchandise are urged to attend an important mass meeting to be held at the Courthouse, Bay St. Louis, at 8 P. M. Thursday, June 19th.

Henry W. Osoinach, chairman of the Hancock county cotton stamp committee will preside. Speakers will include Walter B. McCreight of the Surplus Marketing Administration.

In announcing this meeting Mr. Osoinach stated that as far as possible not only merchants but their clerks should attend this important discussion of how merchants may participate in the benefits of the Supplementary Cotton stamp program, soon to be launched in this area.

He said that in order to be eligible to accept cotton stamps for redemption from the Government, merchants must first complete a "Retailers' Statement" form which will be available and fully explained at the meeting.

Mr. Osoinach added that $25,000,000 worth of cotton stamps are available for distribution to cotton farmers during 1941, and any merchants prepared to accept these stamps in trade in the prescribed manner could be at distinct disadvantage. The simplest way for merchants to fully understand the program, said Mr. Osoinach "is to attend this meeting. They will learn how they may get their share of this additional business; what goods may be exchanged for stamps; the rules and regulations they must comply with in making cotton stamp sales; and how to redeem the stamps for cash."

"By aggressive merchandising methods pushing the sale of cotton goods not only to those using stamps—but to every family in the community—retail merchants will make a substantial contribution toward solving the problem of price depression of cotton surplus and under consumption of cotton goods by a large part of our people."

The second tragic death of the early summer season occurred here on last Thursday afternoon when John (Jack) Sanford, fourteen-year-old son of Mrs. Ethel Sanford, residing in State street, was drowned while swimming off the Louisville & Nashville Railroad bridge.

Jack Sanford walked along the railroad bridge and after disrobing, dove into the water from the first platform on the bridge into water less than ten feet deep and began swimming. According to a statement made to his grandmother, Mrs. G. C. McCracken by two small negro boys who brought his clothes home and conveyed the sad news that Jack was drowned, Jack became frightened at finding himself in deep water and called for help which they rendered him, but in order to save themselves, they were compelled to abandon the boy. Help was summoned at once and in a very short time, a number of men were out on the bridge and in boats endeavoring to find the boy. After an hour's search, the body was contacted by Sam Schoonmaker who brought it to the surface and every effort possible was made to revive the victim, with medical aid and the use of the pulmotor and the services of several persons skilled in first aid working valiantly for two hours before a doctor pronounced the child as dead from drowning. Mrs. Ethel Sanford, mother of the drowned boy, stated he had eaten a hearty meal just before going into the water and it is possible that he suffered with indigestion also.

The body was prepared for burial by the McDonald Funeral Home of Poycune with whom a life insurance policy was carried, and funeral services were held from the late home on State street with services at the house, church and grave by the Rev. W. S. Allen, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis, officiating and a large number of friends of the family and unfortunate boy in attendance. Interment was in Cedar Rest Cemetery in the family plot and the casket was escorted to the grave by a court of honor composed of six boys, members of Bay Scout Troop No. 208 with Scout Master Carl Arnold in charge. The boys serving were Billy Landry, Frank Keiffer, Gaines, Kergosien, James Evans, Fred MacDonald and Donald Arceneaux. A number of beautiful floral offerings covered the new grave.

Jack Sanford was born July 3, 1926 in Evansville, Indiana, and had resided here with his grandmother and mother and sisters for the past twelve years. He was an eighth grade student at Bay High School and had been working at the Bobbye Anne Bakery for the summer. He was a member of the Baptist Young Peoples Union and a tenderfoot scout member of Troop No. 208 and a commendable youngster, and his loss caused a deep pall of sadness over the entire community.

Surviving Jack are his mother, Mrs. Ethel Sanford, his father, John W. Sanford of Evansville, Indiana, his grandmother, Mrs. G. C. McCracken, two sisters, Ora Lee and Ruth of Bay St. Louis, and a half sister, Loraine, and half-brother, Everett of Evansville, Indiana.

SCHOOLS AND AIR RAIDS

IT may surprise some of the people of Bay St. Louis to know there are schools in the United States which have made preparations for air raid drills and, in one or two instances, experiments have been held in reference to the rapid dismissal of children holding them in school in case of air raids and the protection of school property.

The United States is living in a world that presents grave dangers to all nations. We are not aloof from the revolutionary currents that are sweeping the globe. Neither are we immune from the perils that periods of international violence bring to mankind.

It may seem fantastic to think that bombs may drop upon our large cities, much less upon our schools and churches, but it is no more amazing than what has happened to the people of European countries.

There is no foundation of character behind the word of most of the nations that are armed today. Regardless of peaceful intentions, it still requires two nations to keep the peace. The only safeguard that is available to people anywhere is to be found in thorough preparedness for the worst even if there is hope for better.

NEW DEVICE TO BEAT U. BOATS.

SOME hope springs from the recent statement of Mr. Charles F. Kettering forecasting a new device to master the submarine. Mr. Kettering is not an idle dreamer. What he says can hardly be dismissed as trivial conversation, designed to catch the headlines. There must be something behind his prediction that U-boats will be detected, even at night on the high seas.

Naturally, it would be asking too much to expect the great industrial scientist to tell us the whole secret about the work that has been going on, in cooperation with the Navy for the past six years.

A device to apprehend submarines upon the surface of the ocean at night would do much toward meeting the peril of the U-boat. It might be based upon the detection of sound, the location of engines with delicate apparatus to measure heat, or some radio invention that works marvels.

It is idle to speculate but the development of such a detector would mean much in the Battle of the Atlantic. Let's hope that before long the sinkings at sea will be reduced and furnish us with visible evidence that new anti-submarine methods are in practice.

MUSSOLINI WARNS AMERICANS.

THE pseudo-dictator of Italy, Benito Mussolini, now dependent upon his master, Hitler, for anything that comes to him as a result of the present war, takes time off to give the people of the United States some advice. He says that we are in a de facto war and warns us against a dictator. This is what you might call considerable nerve in view of what Hitler has done to what used to be referred to as Italian liberties.

Brother Benito also throws out a hint that, if we are not careful, the Japanese might do something naughty to us and that Spain, too, might rise up and join the Axis powers.

It might surprise Benito to know just exactly how little the people of this country care what Japan does, much less Spain. In fact, the patriotic American is getting fed up on this dictator business in Europe and, in typical diplomatic fashion the United States, one of these bright Summer days, may even tell Benito where to go.

THE "IRON MAN" OF TENNIS.

IT'S about time that we give a hand to William Tilden, 48-year-old veteran of the tennis courts, who is setting some kind of a record as the "Iron Man" of tennis.

The other day, in the professional round-robin tournament, the veteran Tilden gave spectators a matchless exhibition of his great skill. For two sets, he had Frederick A. Perry, former world's amateur champion very much worried as he chopped, sliced and lobbed to disconcert his younger antagonist.

After the second set, Perry, who won the amateur championship in 1936, swept forward to victory, winning the last three sets decisively. Nevertheless, it is a bit comforting, in this time of international stress, to know that Big Bill Tilden is still able to get on the court and play a game of tennis that is almost the best in the world.

Successful family life depends upon teamwork, rather than joy-rides.

If you hear something good about your neighbor, do a friendly service and tell your reporter. Let's spread the good news.

Modern advertising would produce greater results of every advertiser made it his business to know how many people see his advertisements.

The government of the United States has done much for American labor. This is the time for labor to do something for the government.

WERE THE U.S. STANDS

THE position of the United States, in relation to the present war in Europe, may be summarized as follows:

(1) The outcome of the struggle will determine who will regulate the world for many years.

(2) The main interests of the United States in the post-war world are identical with those of Great Britain.

(3) A German victory would mean German control of the seas and the destruction of American commerce.

(4) From a selfish standpoint, it is necessary that the United States and the British to defeat Hitler in order to have a chance to avoid staggering armaments or a stupendous war.

(5) American aid will be sent to Great Britain, regardless of German threats and attacks upon American ships will begin a fight.

(6) Shooting incidents in connection with getting goods to Great Britain may result in an undeclared war with our objectives limited to protecting our commerce.

(7) The safety and security of this hemisphere will not permit Hitler to acquire Iceland, the Azores, or the Cape Verde Islands, and, possibly, Dakar on the West Coast of Africa.

(8) While every effort will be made to avoid forcing Japan to join in the struggle, there will be no appeasement of Japan at the expense of the British, the Dutch, or the United States, in the Far East.

(9) American defense production will be vastly extended and our forces—Army, Navy, and Air Corps—will be enlarged and ready for protective action whenever and wherever required.

(10) At this time there is little idea that American soldiers will ever participate in the battles of Europe, but will be sent anywhere, if necessary, to protect this hemisphere by preventing potential enemies from securing dangerous bases.

SOLDIERS END STRIKE.

NEW Americans fail to approve the resolute action of the United States government in ordering soldiers to take possession of the strike-bound North American Aviation Company in California, where a small minority of striking workers tied up the production of airplanes.

The cause of labor has suffered serious damage in the past few months through the ill-advised action of various labor organizations, most of which have been local groups. It will take time to erase from the public mind the evil picture that has been spread throughout the nation, sometimes by those inimical to the cause of labor.

Nevertheless, one should remember that laborers themselves, through improper action, have done their own organizations and their fellowworkmen a serious injury. After all, even labor leaders will understand the power of public opinion, once the people of this nation are aroused. They might as well get busy immediately and see that some of these senseless strikes are ended.

The picture of grim-faced American soldiers, slowly advancing upon a massed picket line, may not be to the liking of strikers but they will be utterly dense if they do not realize that the people of the United States are standing behind the men in uniform when they take such action. Laborers have only themselves to blame for what they do not like.

The production of airplanes is vital to the safety of this country. The sentiment of our people is against any tie-ups in the plane production line. They do not believe that any just complaint of the laborers will be ignored by strike mediation bodies and, consequently, they have turned against strikes in plane factories and almost every defense production plant.

HOW CLOSE ARE WE TO WAR?

HOW close is war to the United States? No one can answer this question unless he is able to read the mind of Adolf Hitler, leader of the German Reich.

It is admitted that the policies of the United States are hostile to the continuance of Hitler in power as a world dictator and that acts of this country in sending supplies to the British provide him with ample excuse for declaring war.

Will Hitler choose to declare war upon us? The answer is, according to most experts, "No."

This does not mean that Hitler is afraid of the United States. It merely means that, at this stage of his career, it is more profitable for him not to have a war with the United States.

To engage this country in actual warfare would undoubtedly unite the American people, as nothing else could, and cause them to redouble their assistance to the British. It would cause the United States to take direct naval and possibly, aerial action against Germany. In time, it might mean soldiers, armed, equipped and manned by American industry, which is without a par in the world.

Hitler will make war upon the United States when it suits his purposes. He will not, very likely, precipitate a crisis unless he becomes convinced that this action is necessary to prevent the delivery of supplies to the British. If this becomes evident, he may risk an attack upon us, especially if Japan plays her appointed role and attacks us in the Pacific at the same time.

WHO IS AT PEACE?

THERE are people in the United States who who declare that the British should make peace with Adolf Hitler.

If one calls the roll of the nations that have made peace with Hitler in the past few years, there will be no independent nation answering.

Russia made peace but where is France today? Belgium made peace but what is the condition of Belgium and the Belgians? The peace nations could be extended but it is unnecessary.

There is the present situation in the world. There is the present situation in the world. There is the present situation in the world.

ORTIE THEATER "MODEL WIFE" ON SUN.-MON., 22-23

Joan Blondell, Dick Powell Are Costarred in Comedy

Borrowing Joan Blondell and Dick Powell from their real-life domestic chores for a merry, mad marital mix-up, Universal's "Model Wife" co-starring the two favorites, is scheduled to open Sunday for a two-day engagement at the Ortie Theater.

Hit rating was accorded the picture at the preview given for the members of the press in the film capital.

In addition to the Blondell-Powell combination, the cast includes Lee Bowman, most recently in "Buck Privates"; Charlie Ruggles, in a Ruth Donnelly, Lucile Watson, Billy Gilbert and John Qualen.

The story, streamlined for comedy and romance, also presents an excellent opportunity for Miss Blondell to display a complete revue of the season's newest fashions in gowns and chapeaux. The lead roles are those of a wedded couple working in an ultra-smart gown shoppe, where marriage in the personnel is taboo.

Miss Blondell and Powell zealously guard their secret, saving every dime for an anticipated arrival from Mr. Stork. The situation becomes rather complicated when the fuss-budget boss, played by Miss Watson, puts her incorrigible son, Bow, man, to work and he falls in love with Powell's wife.

Leigh Jason, maker of such popular pictures as "Love on a Pail," "That Girl From Paris," and "The Bride Wore Red," was total producer and director of "Model Wife."

MISSISSIPPI CHIEF OF POLICE

Says:

"Beer is sold in a WHOLESOME atmosphere in this community . . ."

Chief of Police, M. M. Little of Hattiesburg, one of the most capable law-enforcement officials in the South, with an outstanding record of achievements to his credit, stated in a recent comment, concerning the program of the Brewers and Mississippi Beer Distributors Committee:

"In my 4 years as an officer of the law I have never seen anything to equal the Clean Up or Close Up program of your committee.

"Most such programs are publicity stunts but you have proven to me that you mean business and together we have cleaned up a serious local situation.

"The beer industry, through your Committee, helped me remedy conditions in Hattiesburg by shutting off the supply of beer to eleven outlets in one area and we now have three petitions for revocation of permits pending before the State Tax Commission.

"The action of your Committee has also been a warning to others and has resulted in a voluntary cleaning up of my border-line outlets who are now rigidly adhering to the law.

"Due to your program beer is sold in a WHOLESOME atmosphere in this community and we expect, with your continued help, to keep it so."

Through the cooperation of law-enforcement officials like Chief Little and the thinking public—Beer—a beverage of moderation—made from wholesome American farm products under rigid tests for purity and quality—is increasingly available to you in WHOLESOME surroundings.

You can help protect these important benefits by patronizing the wholesome, law-abiding retail beer outlets in your community.

LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW BOOKS

Mrs. Clifford Lyons Makes Valuable Contribution—Books From Carnegie Fund.

Recently Mrs. Clifford Lyons presented the Hancock County Library a five volume art book published in Paris.

Four of these volumes illustrated the works of Raphael. The fifth of Michel Angelo, Bandinelli and de Volterra.

There is a lengthy preface in French but after that the books are entirely pictures.

Preres must have given out the work to a corps of artists for the pictures are signed by various men and women. These artists must have gone into the galleries and churches of Italy, France, Germany, Belgium, and England to do this work. The outline steel engravings are all beautifully and freely drawn. Of course we know that after a certain number of prints are made of each plate, the plate itself is destroyed. This making the pictures rarer and more valuable, also they are clear. For after a certain amount of use the plates become blurred.

The books are bound in beautiful blue morocco leather, and the firm bindings are in good condition. The library is certainly fortunate to have such books on its reference shelves.

Thanks are due to the generous donor, Mrs. Clifford Lyons.

The most recent shipment of books to the Hancock County Library from the Carnegie Endowment has been received and the readers have a treat in store for them.

These sent for the boys and girls are most attractive and we are giving Miss Jones' letter to them.

"Dear boys and girls:

The stories of the five books in this new group are divided into two groups: three of them are laid in cold northern countries, and the other two are in warm tropical climates. In the northern group is first, "Quest of the Northland" which tells the story of a visit by two English children to Iceland. You will find it exciting to read of children in this far away strange land of which we know so little. It will particularly interest the older children. The Canadian forest is the home of Danny White-duck, the little Indian boy of "The Red Canoe." How many of you would be as brave as Danny if you should meet a moose? And wouldn't it be fun to help build a museum as the children of Finland did in the "Cuchoo Calls." The title "Children of Hawaii" tells you right away what to expect from the first book in the tropical group. Just to look at the pictures will make you want to read the book. The last book is about "Ramon" who lives in the warm Kashmir region of India. The first time he ever sees a train is when he goes to Lahore. Why do you think he went there? Let the story tell you. Your friend, Amy Hemmingsway Jones."

The adult books are very interesting too and Miss Jones has taken the time to send with the shipment a synopsis of each book which makes it most helpful for the reader if they are not already familiar with the books.

They are, Finland Forever, by Hudson Strode; it tells of Finland's recent struggle for independence. Chiang Kai-Shek, by Sven Hedrin. This includes the story of the land as well as of the great Marshal of China. "My Sister and I" by Dirk van der Heide. This is the story of a twelve-year old Dutch boy—a plain unadorned account of a child's reaction to the terrible experiences being forced upon innocent children. Union Now With Britain, by Charles K. Street. You have doubtless read his previous book, Union Now. Against the Torrent, by Edward Mead Earle. It is an informal way of an answer to Anne Lindbergh's "The Wave of the Future."

A CARD

Bay St. Louis, Miss., June 16, 1941.

Please allow us space in your paper to try in a feeble way to express our kindest appreciation to the dear people of Bay St. Louis for their helpfulness and sympathy to our family upon the sudden death of our dear son and grandson, Jack Sanford. Surely these fine people know the full meaning of the teachings of Jesus when He said: "Bear ye one another's burdens." The people here of every race and creed put aside their personal duties to render every assistance they could, and truly made our burden easier to bear.

It is very difficult to mention any special ones, because everyone was so very good and kind; but we especially do appreciate the spiritual assistance rendered by our kind pastor, Rev. W. S. Allen.

And too, the McDonald Funeral Home deserves special thanks for services rendered.

Everyone has our everlasting gratitude for the beautiful floral offerings and every kindness rendered.

RESOLUTION.

The following resolution of sympathy on the death of Mr. Charles J. Mitchell was passed at the last meeting of the Bay St. Louis Masonic Lodge No. 429.

Whereas God in his wise though mysterious Providence has deemed it best to remove from this earthly to a heavenly and celestial sphere of existence our true friend and loved brother, Charles J. Mitchell, loyal and efficient Senior Warden of this our Masonic Lodge, and

Whereas his passing has left us all grieved and sad, and we have been made to realize during the comparatively few years he was one of our members, his splendid worth as a man and mason, and that his place will indeed be hard to fill and that in many ways his loss can never be replaced.

Therefore be it Resolved that we, his Masonic brethren, indeed deplore his loss most keenly, ever cherishing his memory and resolving to emulate as best we can the fine example he has left us of what Masonry really is in its best form.

Be it further resolved that we extend to his bereaved family and loved ones our deep and sincere sympathy in their as well as our almost irreparable loss.

And also Resolved that one copy of this Resolution be spread upon the Minutes of our Lodge; one copy published in our local paper and one copy sent to Brother Mitchell's surviving loved ones.

Respectfully submitted for the Lodge and its members, June 1941.
